

Contents

Editorial	5
Michael R. Krätke: „Here the manuscript breaks off.“ (Engels) Does Kapital have a conclusion? Part I	7
Izumi Omura: From Zur Kritik der politischen Ökonomie to Kapital. Marx's conceptual reflections on Kapital in 1862 and from 1863 to 1865	44
Alessandro Mazzone: What does it mean „to produce“? Reflections on the concept of class in Kapital	55
Ludmila Vasina: Why Engels did not use Chapter 1 from Marx's second Manuscript for the second volume of Kapital	77
Keizo Hayasaka: An outline of the life of Oscar Eisengarten and his contribution to the editing of volume II of Kapital	83
Carl-Erich Vollgraf: Engels sharply interrogated by the daughters of Marx with regard to volume IV of Kapital	111
Fritz Fiehler: Douglas C. North: It is worth making sense of Marx. Transactional costs and circulation costs	135
Hans-Georg Bensch: On the concept of scientific work	151
George E. Economakis: Capitalist Mode of Production and Ground Rent: Aspects of Marx's Theory Starting from Smith's and Ricardo's Analysis	160
Peter Krüger, Uta Puls: Karl Marx and contemporary 19th century geology. Aspects of his geological excerpt notebooks before and after the appearance of Kapital	200
Roberto Fineschi: On the concept of history in the Italian Marxist debate. Parts II and III	219

Rolf Hecker : A „valorous comrade in arms“ – Ferdinand Domela Niewenhuis. Marx’s marginal comments in Kapitaal en Arbeid	251
Jan Hoff : Notes on Nadja Rakowitz’ „Einfache Warenproduktion“	263
Moon-Gil Chung : On the new edition of Die Deutsche Ideologie in Japan	285
Letters to the editor on Sonderband 3	293
Announcement of the David-Rjazanov-Preis 2002	299